Hanyo Luxury Vinyl Tiles are made from PVC raw materials and are constructed using three fundamental layers. The Top layer consists of a UV Coating Layer that prevents and minimizes the degree of discolouration and PVC Wear Layer that generates a high level of resistant towards scratches and dusts, making tiles maintenance efficient and effective . The Middle Layer is Printed Design Layer that uses advance imaging technology to imprint the tiles with a realistic natural wood impression. The Botton Layer is Base Layer cum Stability Layer that combine to achieve a high overall structural strength which greatly enhance the durability of the vinyl tiles.
